Student Positions: Common Time Entry Errors and Making Time Entry Corrections

Purpose: This document informs UChicago Human Resource Partners and Time Approvers about common time entry errors made by student employees and how to correct errors if they occur.

Summary: Due to the unique nature of student employment, clocking time worked can be prone to errors. This document outlines the most common errors that can occur with student positions and the steps needed to correct those errors. Time corrections can be made by the HRP or Time Approver.

Student positions can be either exempt or non-exempt. With the exception of a few departments, all student positions are paid on a bi-weekly basis (including exempt positions). A limited population of exempt Graduate Student positions in BSD, PME, PSD and MED are paid on a monthly basis. These monthly paid positions are paid by a salary plan.

Biweekly paid students in non-exempt roles will need to log time worked via one of the following methods. The respective department will direct the student on which method to utilize.

- Web Clock
- Swipe Clock
- Timesheet

Common Student Time Entry Errors:
1. Time Entry made to the wrong position

   a) Students who clock more than 20 hours per week must receive permission from the Student's area Dean of Students (Graduate Students) or Enrollment & Student Advancement (Undergraduate Students) via email.
